market facts

Most of the RAAF Amberley workforce (defence force and civilian) live in the Ipswich region; their salary and benefits enable the highest disposable income of any comparable group in the community.

This is a great market but it is also a group that requires marketing from businesses that wants their business.

Defence personnel and families have choice, so direct marketing is essential to capturing and keeping their business.

Our most successful clients know that effective, ongoing advertising keeps their businesses front of mind as the Amberley workforce changes, with transfers, additions and changing family structure.

The Amberley Air Base has undergone huge changes in recent years.

More than 1000 personnel and families transfer to RAAF Amberley each year, so there are always new families coming into this market.

Ipswich is also home to a large population of ex-Defence personnel and families.

Defence contractors form a significant part of Amberley's workforce, accounting for half the base population of 4500 people.

What our clients say...

“We’ve been advertising with the team at CityWest for the past three months and have achieved some fantastic results from our increased exposure in the Ipswich region.”

As an Ipswich owned and operated business, we believe having strong relationships is vital to the success of our business in getting our message out to the market place. The team at CityWest is an integral part of that process. They continually work with us to ensure we achieve the results we are looking for. We advertise in CityWest magazine because it works. It is a quality magazine that has the right balance of advertising features and news articles. We advertise in CityWest because we know people read it.

Martyn Worsfold - Ipswich Home Loans Advertising in CityWest works!

We’ve been advertising with the team at CityWestWhy? Because it works.

Our customers enjoy reading CityWest and our business is growing because of it. We always find the level of service and the way our CityWest Representative Carol communicates with us is above our expectations. The CityWest team are easy to deal with via email, phone or personally. They make sure we get the results we want. We will continue to advertise with this top class magazine.

Brad Kearton - Brad Kearton Jewellers

“ Our Brentwood Rise neighbourhood at Augustine Heights continues to benefit from regular advertising in CityWest News.”

As developers of land which appeals to first home owners through to growing families, it is important that we are able to reach the broadest possible market for minimal expenditure. CityWest News helps us achieve this objective with strong enquiry and sales throughout the year.

In fact, many buyers actually bring their copy of CityWest News into the Brentwood Rise sales office so we know it is working for us. There’s no doubt it is a quality publication which is widely read throughout the local community. Advertising in CityWest News is an integral part of our marketing strategy and one which reaps us excellent exposure and sales.

Damian Long – Brentwood Rise Augustine Heights

As an owner-operator of a franchised travel agency in Springfield I am constantly on the lookout for the best way to promote my business and advertise my products.

Over the years I have tried a number of different local media and have had some successful results. However, since advertising with City West News the results have been outstanding. The professional approach of the team at City West News has certainly contributed to this success. Always prepared to assist me with my advertising copy and layout and constantly coming up with different ideas, the team at City West News takes away the stress of trying to develop something new each time. This glossy, quality magazine is obviously read by a wide range of people in the Ipswich area. I started advertising with City West News in January this year on a monthly basis. It was the best decision I have ever made in regards to marketing.
